Supporting Michigan Libraries

To support research and learning in public libraries across the state, the Michigan eLibrary now provides access to a collection of reliable information resources from EBSCO. These resources come in a variety of formats — magazines, newspapers, encyclopedias, reference books, primary source documents and multimedia — and cover a vast array of subject areas from art, literature and social studies to mathematics, science and technology.

KEY BENEFITS

- Connect with readers wherever they are with reference databases, e-books, audiobooks and expert reading recommendations. Our user experiences are as mobile as your patrons.

- Whether your patrons want to learn a new language or get homework help, be ready with leading education resources and reference databases to help them succeed.

- Increase the awareness and visibility of your library and measure your impact in the community with EBSCO*admin*™ reports.

- Offer content to support diverse passions, including genealogy, auto repair and makerspace hobbies. Provide current, reliable information about consumer products, health, legal issues and more.

- Make your library a destination for career and business success with business databases, EBSCO LearningExpress® learning platforms and resources for skill-building and local innovation.

- Gain easy access to training and tools for success with on-demand tutorials on EBSCO Help.
